Ringkasan

About

I am an active student in pursuing bachelor on Informatic Engineering on the University of Lampung, also an enthusiast on the current and the ever growing innovation on computer technology , i have several experience on mobile development using kotlin language also a few experience on game development on godot and unity in the past, however i always welcomed any opportunity to further grow my exprience and skill.

Im able to learn and adapt quickly also able to work in collaborative environment of a working team, where i can learn and also grow alongside professional whilst also coordinating work with each other to achieve our target or objective. Currently i am still learning to prepare for the innevitable of the burden and hardship of working. As for now im participating on Mobile Development Cohort at Bangkit Academy, a training program led by Google, Tokopedia, Gojek, and Traveloka.
